Syntex Management Systems, Inc to Discuss Key Performance Indicators of Safety Performance Management at the SPE 2010 Health, Safety and Environment Conference and Exhibition

Houston, Texas (April 12, 2010) – Syntex Management Systems, Inc., world's leading provider of enterprise risk management solutions, is pleased to announce that Syntex will discuss Key Performance Indicators of Safety Management in a technical session at the SPE 2010 International Health, Safety and Environmental Conference & Exhibition taking place in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil on April 12 -14, 2010 at the Windsor Barra Hotel and Convention Center. Joe Stough, Founder and Executive Vice President of Product Strategy for Syntex will present at the session entitled "Putting Lagging Indicators in the Rear-View Mirror with Broadly Applicable QHSE Process-Based KPIs" on April 13, 2010 at 3:45 pm (15:45.) Registered attendees will have the opportunity to view an in-depth one-on-one demo of Syntex's products and services offered by visiting booth number 7 in the exhibition hall.

Experts from the global oil and gas industry and governmental and nongovernmental agency officials will gather to discuss how to address climate change, public health needs in developing countries, and other pressing social responsibility issues at the Society of Petroleum Engineers' International Conference on Health, Safety & Environment (HSE). The conference theme, "Facing New Challenges with Best Practices and Innovative Thinking," reflects the sharing of best practices and technologies that are imperative in the current global climate to maximize HSE programs and help achieve shareholders and stakeholders needs. The conference also features more than 75 knowledge sharing sessions that promote discussion and interaction between the authors and attendees and 30 exhibiting companies representing 15,000 sq ft of exhibit space. For more information on the conference visit www.spe.org/events/hse.
