Syntex to Reveal Leading Indicators of Safety Performance at IADC Drilling HSE Europe Conference and Exhibition

Houston, Texas (September 10, 2009) – Syntex Management Systems, Inc., world's leading provider of enterprise risk management solutions, is pleased to announce that Joe Stough, Founder, EVP Product Strategy for Syntex will present at the IADC Drilling HSE Europe Conference and Exhibition. The conference will be held September 23-24, 2009 in Amsterdam, the Netherlands at the Movenpick Hotel. Mr. Stough's presentation entitled "Using Leading Indicators of Safety Effort to Improve Performance" on September 23rd from 9:00 am - 10:00 am will answer an underlying question "Do organizations with the BEST leading Safety Risk Reduction Effort (RRE) have the Best lagging Safety Performance?" He describes the mission he is leading with a consortium of some of the world's largest companies to prove and to provide the mathematical support for the contention that Safety results can be controlled by improving leading indicators of Safety Risk Reduction Effort.

The 2009 IADC Drilling HSE Europe Conference & Exhibition will focus on health, safety and environmental issues necessary to ensure incident free drilling operations and the means of sustaining such performance. It will also address the aspects required to ensure a healthy and safe working environment for the workforce and will identify corporate culture and individual behavioral aspects essential to maintain these goals. Registered attendees will have the opportunity to learn how Syntex has helped global leaders in the Drilling, Energy, Chemicals, and Process Manufacturing industries improve HSE performance by delivering IMPACT Leading Indicators including HSE Reporting Culture, Leadership Commitment & Involvement, Action Responsiveness, and Risk Reduction.
