

Todd Lunsford

Senior Solutions Engineer
Syntex Management Systems, Inc.

Todd Lunsford has an M.B.A with a focus of information systems consulting and has been helping companies achieve their business objectives via software implementations for the past 10 years. Todd joined Syntex Management Systems, Inc. in early 2003 after spending 1 1/2 years working with Syntex and its product technology as a consultant. His previous experience was with Computer Sciences Corporation (CSC) where he was a principal consultant working with many different clients to deploy ERP (Enterprise Resource Planning) systems such as PeopleSoft and SAP. After 4 years of providing his implementation and project management expertise to our Services organization, Todd became a Sales Solution Engineer in January 2007. In this role, he supports our Sales Executives throughout the sales cycle by providing business solutions, product content information, and demonstrations for the IMPACT ERM Suite® of applications.
